Chairman,
International Relations Committee
All India Ophthalmological Society
(AIOS)

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

It is a matter of great pride and joy that the 3rd International Conference of AIOS is being held in collaboration with the 8th MEOM International Conference, from 30 October to 1 November 2026, at InterContinental Dubai Festival City, Dubai, UAE.

This collaboration would not have been possible without the vision and initiative of our President, Dr. J. S. Titiyal, and Prof. (Dr.) Namrata Sharma, Chairperson, AIOS Scientific Committee. They reached out to MEOM Academy, Dubai, and made this partnership happen. I thank them both most sincerely.

I also thank the members of AIOS for their enthusiastic participation at such short notice. Your response shows the strength and spirit of our Society.

Mr. Kripal Rana of AIOS HQ and Mr. Bhupinder Singh of the AIOS Scientific Committee office deserve a special mention. They worked round the clock to complete this ambitious project, and we are grateful for their help.

I am confident that AIOS will continue to collaborate with more such international bodies. These partnerships raise the profile of AIOS as a body. They also show the world the pioneering and innovative work being done by our members.

I am confident that AIOS will continue to collaborate with more such international bodies. These partnerships raise the profile of AIOS as a body. They also show the world the pioneering and innovative work being done by our members.

Meetings like this are also an opportunity to invite ophthalmologists from other countries to join AIOS as international members. India has some of the finest surgical hands in the world. This is our platform to showcase the talent of our members, their surgical skills, and the training programmes we offer in India.

Congratulations to one and all!

Long Live AIOS!!

Message

Dr. Santosh G. Honavar
Honorary General Secretary,
AIOS

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

It is my great pleasure and privilege to welcome you to the 3rd International Conference of the All India Ophthalmological Society (AIOS) 2026, held in association with the 8th MEOM International Conference, from 30 October to 1 November 2026 at the InterContinental Dubai Festival City, Dubai, UAE.

This distinguished gathering brings together ophthalmologists and vision-care professionals from around the world in a shared commitment to knowledge, excellence, and innovation. Beyond its scientific significance, the conference represents the enduring value of international collaboration: an opportunity to exchange clinical experience, explore evolving paradigms of ophthalmic practice, share advances in research and technology, and learn from the diverse perspectives of colleagues across borders.

The participation of more than 100 delegates from India is especially gratifying. It reflects the enthusiasm of our ophthalmic community for meaningful international engagement and reaffirms AIOS's longstanding commitment to strengthening professional relationships and building enduring bridges among ophthalmologists and societies worldwide.

In this spirit of collaboration, I wish to place on record my sincere appreciation to Dr. Mohamad Al Amri, Dr. Nazimul Hussain, and their entire team for their vision, cooperation, and tireless efforts in bringing this important meeting to fruition. I also extend my gratitude to the organising committee, participating societies, distinguished faculty, and all those whose dedication—often exercised quietly behind the scenes—has made this conference possible.

I would further like to express my deep appreciation to my colleagues in the Governing Council of AIOS - President Dr. J. S. Titiyal, President Elect Dr. Mohan Rajan, Vice President Dr. Chitra Ramamurthy, Treasurer Dr. Manoj Chandra Mathur, Chair, Scientific Committee Prof. (Dr.) Namrata Sharma, Chair, ARC Dr. Prashant Keshao Bawankule, Editor Journal Dr. M. Vanathi, Editor Proceedings Dr. Krishna Prasad Kudlu, Past President Dr. Partha Biswas, Joint Secretary Dr. Mohita Sharma, and Joint Treasurer Dr. Elankumaran Pasupathi - for their steadfast support, collegiality, and collective commitment to the growth and international outreach of AIOS. Their contribution exemplifies the spirit of shared responsibility and mutual trust that continues to strengthen our Society and advance the larger vision of Indian ophthalmology. (Aios)

The scientific programme, thoughtfully curated by Prof. Namrata Sharma, promises a rich and engaging blend of contemporary knowledge, clinical insight, research updates, and stimulating academic discourse. Yet the value of this meeting extends beyond the formal programme. It offers a unique forum for colleagues from different countries and professional backgrounds to connect, exchange ideas, cultivate friendships, and lay the foundations for future academic and professional collaboration.

I extend my warmest appreciation to all the distinguished speakers and faculty members for sharing their expertise and enriching this international academic endeavour. I encourage every delegate to participate actively, engage openly in discussion, and make full use of the opportunities this meeting provides - both within the scientific sessions and through the many informal interactions that give an international conference its distinctive character.

I am confident that the 3rd International Conference of AIOS 2026 will be an intellectually rewarding and memorable occasion. May it further strengthen the bonds among ophthalmic communities across nations and contribute meaningfully to our collective endeavour to advance the science, practice, and art of eye care.

I wish the conference every success and all participants a stimulating, enriching, and memorable experience.
